Molly Elizabeth Chapman

Dear Labyrinth Friends,

I've been on Grandmother duty during August. Look at Molly... my newest grandchild... and you will understand why I've been too busy holding the baby and couldn't manage to keep up on e-mail, calendar updates, etc. I'm back on duty once again, so remind me if there's something I was supposed to do which hasn't been done.

I just updated the LNN calendar. Many groups are now planning their fall schedules. As usual, there is an interesting variety of new labyrinth events. Do you have some events which aren't yet on the calendar? Please submit new calendar info using the online form which you can access by clicking the dark green bar at the top of the LNN Calendar page. <http://www.labyrinthnetworknorthwest.org/calendar.html>

There are two interesting labyrinths events coming up this Saturday, September 11:

At the Grotto, there's a workshop on using the labyrinth as a tool to walk the journey of grief

A presentation of Labyrinth 101 begins at Gresham Public Library and continues with a labyrinth walk at St. Luke the Physician Episcopal Church in Gresham

Get details on these plus many other interesting labyrinth events on the LNN Calendar

Plan Ahead -- Mark your Calendar!!

The next NW Regional Labyrinth Gathering is being planned for June 25-26, 2011

Details coming soon

Take advantage of beautiful autumn weather.
It's a great time for walking outdoor labyrinths.

Love,

Kay
