Global Healing Response (GHR) is a global offering of labyrinths for walking on a specific day in response to calls for global healing. GHR was first activated as a response to Hurricane Katrina and has been implemented for disasters in Myanmar, China, Haiti and Chile since then. We offer this unified response to promote stress management, grief integration and healing. We believe in The Power of One and its ability to support and nourish from a distance, those in the disaster area as well those who are sending their love and light.
